TRAIN DERAILS AT WAVELAND

Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell, left, and Mayor Tommy Longo, right, meet with CSX officials Sunday afternoon shortly after a train derailed between Coleman and Nicholson avenues.

CSX, federal rail investigators still trying to determine cause of accident

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

CSX and Federal Railroad Administration officials are still trying to determine what caused a train to derail early Sunday afternoon.

The wreck "is still under investigation, and will be for several days at least," Karen Okie, a member of CSX's Jacksonville, FL-based corporate communications team said Wednesday.

Fortunately, Okie said, no one was hurt when the accident occurred at around 4 p.m. Sunday.

About 24 of the train's 102 cars left the tracks about halfway between Nicholson and Coleman avenues. The train was westbound, heading toward New Orleans. More than 900 feet of rail were damaged, and one car ended up in Central Ave. along with dirt and debris. A power pole was also knocked over, cutting electricity to several homes in the area.

At first, officials were unsure whether the overturned rail cars contained any hazardous materials and were concerned there may be a fire or explosion, since fallen power lines were still sparking nearby. Officials from both the Waveland police and fire departments were on the Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell said that it is very fortunate no one was injured when a suspect opened fire at a subject near the Coleman soccer field Tuesday evening.

"At 5:03 p.m. Tuesday, Waveland Police received a call reporting shots fired in the area of Coleman and Central avenues," Varnell's report states.

"On Wednesday morning at 5:25 a.m., William Vaughn, 16, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested and charged with one count of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon in connection with the shooting. Bond was set at $10,000," Varnell said.

Varnell's report said, "Officers arrived to find the victim, Germaine Lymuel, 28, of

Hancock County families receive first SBA loans

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

Five Hancock County families received the first low-interest disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) to aid in their recovery from damages caused by Tropical Storm Isidore.

SBA Disaster Area Director Michael C. Allen and Hancock County Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar presented the checks totaling $50,000 to the families at the Hancock County Courthouse on Oct. 9.

Justin Boudreaux, of Bay St. Louis, was the first to receive his check. He said his Grand Am Pontiac and his work van were damaged from flood waters. Boudreaux said he will use the SBA loan to purchase a new vehicle.

Pearlington residents Ethel and John LaBruzzo also received an SBA loan for damages to their home.

"We had 14 inches in our house," Ethel LaBruzzo said. "We lost the majority of our furniture and a lot of personal (belongings) that can't be replaced."

LaBruzzo said she and her husband plan to use the loan to renovate their three bedroom home, which they have lived in for only one year.

Gary and Cindy Stenger, who live on Highway 603, plan to use their loan to build a new home in the Poplarville area on high ground.

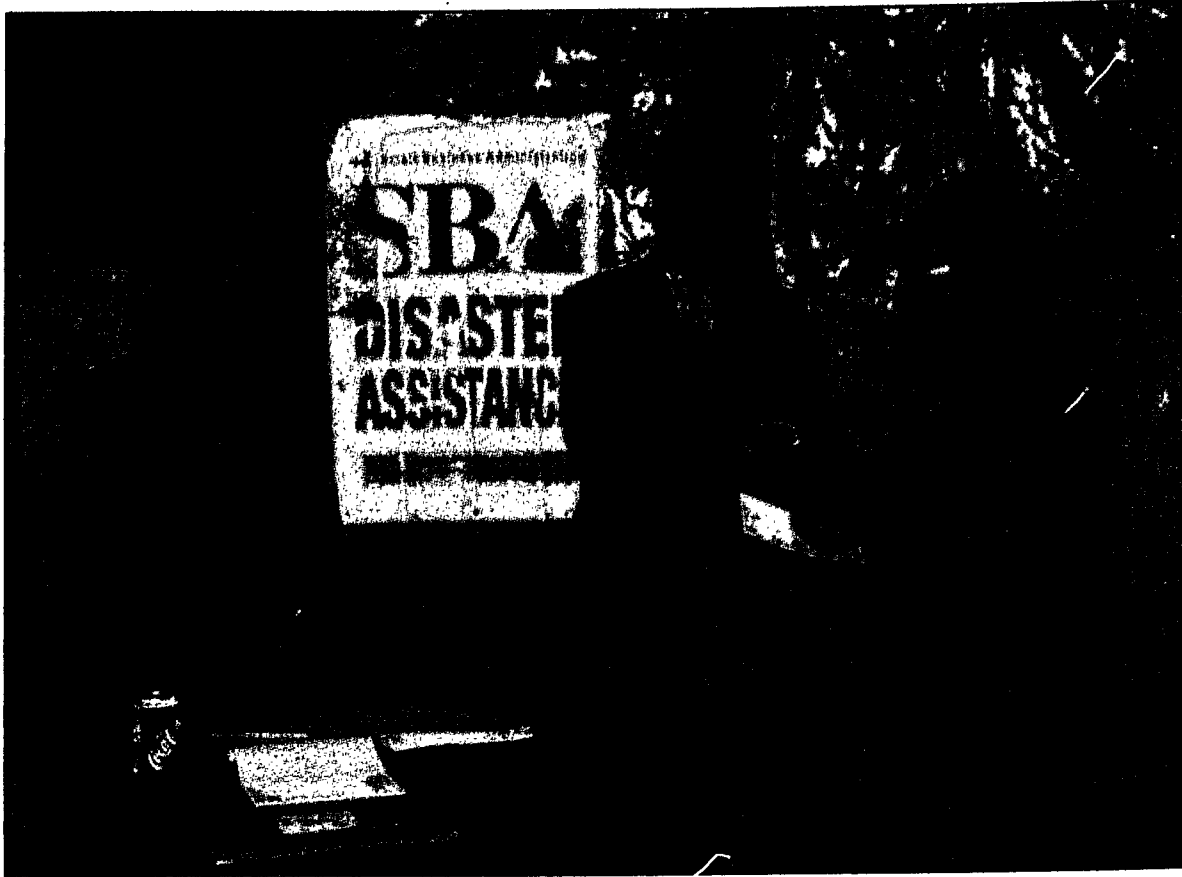

"We lost everything except our vehicles and the clothes we took with us," Gary Stenger said. He said two feet of water crept into the family's two bedroom home.

"We lived there 11 years and had never gotten water in the house," Cindy Stenger said.

David and Sandra Doll of Kiln and Eric and Tammy Windmann of Bay St. Louis also received SBA loans.

The $50,000 was the initial disbursement for all but two families.

"So far, SBA has approved loans totaling $236,100 for these first five families," SBA Disaster Area Director Michael C. Allen said in a news release. "Loan approvals will

Allen also urged people who suffered damages from

Isidore, even those with insurance, to call the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) at (800) 621-3362 and register for assistance as quickly as possible. The application deadline for SBA physical damage disaster loans is Dec. 2.

Airplanes, bullets 'fly' through board meeting

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission executive director, Hal Walters, announced the arrival of Memphis International Inc. at Stennis International Airport during the Oct. 7 meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

The Memphis based aviation company selected Stennis Airport as the site to "carry out avionics work on C-130 military aircraft."

According to a press release from Port and Harbor, John Salter, vice president of operations for Memphis International, said "the company planned to retro-fit existing C-130s with state-of-the-art electronic equipment that will add new capabilities to this workhorse of U.S. and allied air forces."

An initial workforce of approximately 25 people will operate the site beginning next spring once modifications to existing hangar facilities have been completed and the first aircraft arrives.

The board accepted Port and Harbor's resolution to lease Hangar C at Stennis Airport to the aviation company. The 30,880-square-foot facility contains 4,530 square feet of improved office space, 26,350 square feet of hangar area. A 24,200-square-foot aircraft parking apron was also included in the lease.

In other business, the board heard comments from Pearlinton resident Laura Fricke, who wanted the board to create an ordinance prohibiting gunfire near residential areas in the county.

Fricke told the board she was outside her home on Friday, Sept. 27, when she heard gunfire.

"I didn't think much about it," she said. "We hear gunshots all the time." After she heard a bullet "whizz" through her yard, however, she called the sheriff's office.

Since the incident, Fricke collected 40 signatures from Pearlinton residents petitioning for an ordinance.

"I don't want to see someone get injured or killed," she said. Fricke said she did not want to infringe on others' rights concerning guns but wanted residents' rights respected as well.

Rocky Pullman, District 2, informed Fricke the board would look into the matter and talk with its constituents.

"It's a big issue," he said. "It won't be solved overnight."

The board accepted Fricke's petition for filing.

Swiftly Serve files for bankruptcy

*Pearlington EZ
Serve employees
wait for paychecks*

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

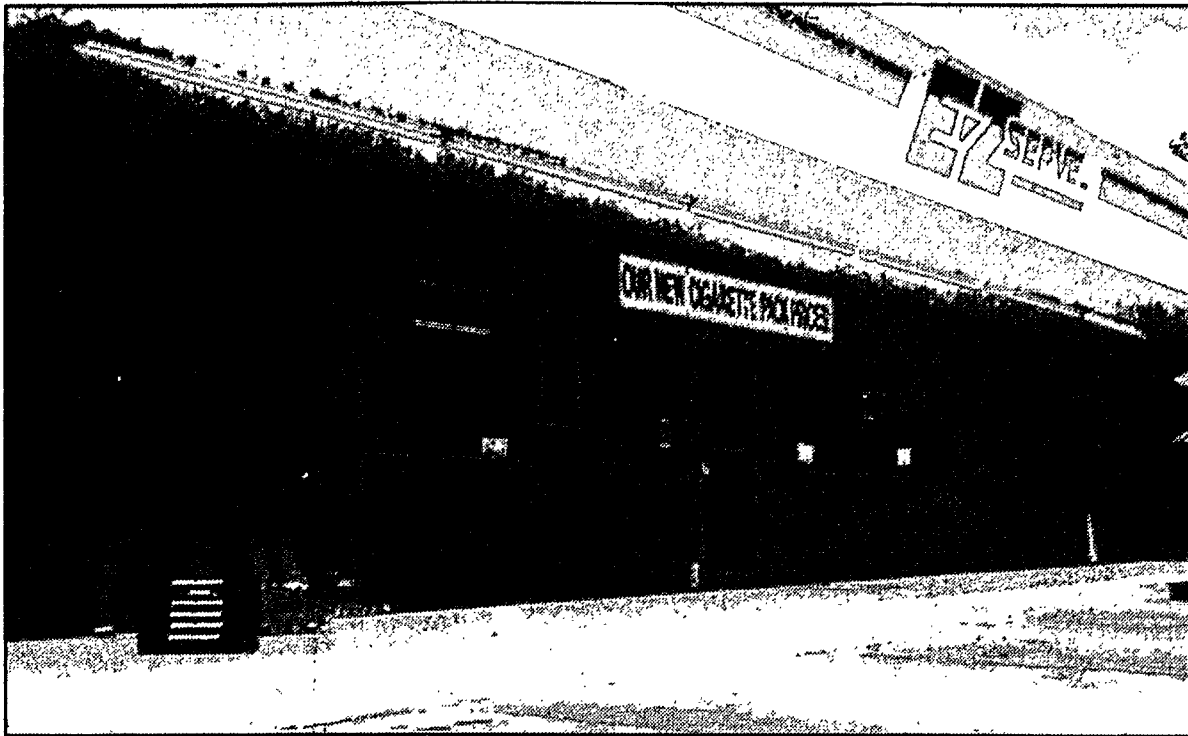

When the EZ Serve in Pearlington permanently closed Friday, Oct. 4, no one could have been more surprised than the employees.

The Pearlington convenience store was one of the 32 stores closed that Friday by the Swiftly Serve chain that filed for bankruptcy the same day. The chain, which operates under the names EZ Serve, Swiftly Serve, Swiftly Mart, Country Cupboard and Majik Mart, also shut down all of its 420 stores in seven states in the Southeast. Other stores included those in Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian and Waveland.

"We had no warning about the closing," said Donna Doyle, an employee of four years. "There was a managers' meeting on Tuesday, and they said everything was fine."

Doyle said merchandise from other stores that had already closed had even been shipped to the Pearlington store.

Doyle said she and the other employees were told the EZ Serve, which was one of two operating convenience stores in the area, would not be shut down because it was profitable.

The closing of the store, however, was not all the employees had to worry about. Doyle said she and the others were told they would receive their paychecks on Oct. 7. As of publication time on Oct. 9, Doyle said she nor the other employees had received their two-weeks worth of pay.

"They knew this was going to happen when they brought the key in to close the store," said Billie Carton, who had worked at the store for a month. "They could have brought us our money."

The other employees included Betty Gavagnie and Linda Freeman, who joined Doyle and Carton outside the EZ Serve on Tuesday in hopes of a Swiftly Serve representative delivering their paychecks.

Doyle said she spoke with the former manager, Don Willis, Wednesday morning and he said he would speak to district manager about when they could expect their paychecks.

Willis could not be reached for comment as of publication time on Wednesday.

Beware of fraudulent contractors when repairing your damaged home

FEMA official says scam artists are often ready to capitalize on others' misfortunes

State and federal disaster recovery officials advise Mississippi residents who have tropical storm-related damage to be extremely careful when hiring contractors to clean up and repair their homes and businesses.

"Although no incidents have been reported in this disaster so far, many times scam artists are ready to seize an opportunity to capitalize on the misfortune of others," said Michael Bolch, the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) official in charge of long-term disaster recovery.

"In the wake of disasters, dishonest contractors often flock to the area to rip off those seeking to rebuild."

The following consumer protection suggestions are offered for consideration by those rebuilding after the recent severe weather:

- Use reliable, licensed contractors. Check with the Mississippi State Board of Contractors at 1-800-880-6161 to make sure the firm is licensed and has no outstanding consumer complaints filed against it.

- Get a Written Estimate. Be sure to obtain a written estimate for the job and read the fine print. Compare the services and prices of several reputable contractors before making a final decision. Hire local contractors if possible.

- Check References. Call former customers who had similar work done to make sure they were satisfied with the job.

- Proof of Insurance. Make sure the contractor carries general liability insurance, workers' compensation and is bonded.

If the contractor is not insured or bonded, the homeowner may be liable for accidents that occur on the property or to the house/building.

- Ask for a Written Contract. A complete contract should clearly state all the work to be performed, all associated costs and the payment schedule.

Never sign a blank contract or one with blank spaces. Make sure the contract clearly states who will apply for the necessary permits or licenses.

Have a lawyer review the contract if substantial costs are involved. Keep a copy of the signed contract.

- Written Guarantees. If the contractor provides any guarantees, they should be written into the contract clearly stating what is guaranteed, who is responsible for the guarantee, and how long the guarantee is valid.

- Pay by Check. Avoid on-the-spot cash payments; the safest route is to write a check to the contracting company. A reasonable down payment is 30 percent of the total cost of the project.

Federal law requires a three-day "cooling off" period for unsolicited door-to-door sales of more than $25.

- Canceling a Contract. Canceling a contract should be done within three business days of signing. Be sure to follow the agreements stated in the cancellation clauses. Send the notification by registered mail.

- Have Work Inspected. If excavation work is being performed (e.g., sewers, etc.) make sure a qualified observer inspects the work before it is hidden from view to avoid similar problems in the future or take photographs if no qualified observer is available.

- Make final payments when the work is completed. Do not sign completion papers or make the final payment until the work is completed to your satisfaction. A reputable contractor will not threaten you or pressure you to sign if the job is not finished properly.

Consumers who have problems with a contractor or who have been victims of fraud are urged to contact the Mississippi State Board of Contractors, 1-800-880-6161, and/or the Consumer Protection Division of the Mississippi Attorney General's office at 1-800-281-4418.

There is also a FEMA Fraud Hotline, 1-800-323-8603, available if someone suspects a contractor is taking advantage of the misfortune of storm victims.

Leon Shaifer, the state official in charge of long-term recovery, adds, "Use caution, verify the contractor's licensing and bonding status with the Mississippi State Board of Contractors, talk to building and floodplain officials, and deal cautiously with contractors you don't know to help make your recovery process a positive one."

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

It has always been in the back of my mind that one day there would be a serious railroad accident at the Nicholson Avenue crossing in Waveland.

As a youngster, I can recall in 1940 when Mrs. Liberton, whose home was next to the track at Nicholson, wandered onto the track and was killed. I can remember a couple of times cows from the Favre's Dairy on Jeff Davis were killed by a passing train at the intersection.

Of course, our neighborhood grocery was that of Mr. and Mrs. Connor's at the crossing. The Liberton's house and Connor's buildings are still there across from each other.

As kids, my brothers and I played many, many times on the crossing's hill with our homemade wagons and scooters.

I am glad there were no injuries with the derailment Sunday afternoon. Those living close to the tracks must have been pretty shaken by the accident.

Our mother was always afraid of us crossing the railroad tracks at Nicholson, even though we picked dew berries and collected coal for our heater in the winters from along the tracks.

We caught the train many times at the Nicholson Avenue crossing for trips to New Orleans.

The railroad crews will be busy, and in a few days the remains of the accident will all be removed.

The railroad was the life blood of Hancock County for many years, as hundreds worked in the many positions it took to keep the trains rolling.

In addition, many families depended on train transportation back and forth to New Orleans for work.

Even the summer residents, the husbands would use the trains to the city for transportation to work.

It's Cruisin' time for the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Classic automobiles from more than 35 states and Canada will be buzzing from Bay St. Louis to Ocean Springs throughout the weekend.

For us older folks, the classics buzzing through town will bring back many memories.

Bay St. Louis is always a popular stop and also Casino Magic, and the 7th annual 'Cruisin'' should bring thousands once again to our city.

Locals need to note there will be several downtown streets closed for the display of the vehicles.

I will be out checking the 'dream' cars of years gone by, and I am sure many others will be too.

Hope you all have a great cruisin' time.

Please note: Hancock County Assessor/Collector Jimmie Ladner reminds residents that the Kiln Office (old library building across from Roosters) is a full-service collectors office.

One can renew vehicular tags, privilege licenses, register trailers, anything that can be done on the collector's side.

Jimmie wants to let folks know the central office across from the courthouse will be very busy Thursday and Friday with cruisin' activities.

Because of this he will have additional staff at the Kiln office.

Hopeful the storms of 2002 are now behind us, and now is the time many of our residents have to complete the task of recovery.

Some folks had water in their homes twice with a seven-day period, and this makes one big mess that takes a lot of time to clean up.

It is still hard for me to believe someone hitched a

Newspapers put the future in the hands of the people

GUEST EDITORIAL
BY TIM L. WALTNER

Knowledge, it has been said, is power.

Assuming that that's true, it would be difficult to find anything that's more important to our future as individuals, communities and a nation than our community newspapers.

Democracy, "a form of government where the supreme power is vested in the people", requires that the people have information on which to make sound decisions.

Knowledge, placed in the minds and hands and hearts of the people, is a powerful force indeed. It helps us determine where we've been, where we are and where we are headed.

"Unfold Your Future," the theme of the 2002 observance of National Newspaper Week, provides a vivid reminder of the important role newspapers play in our lives.

The challenges and opportunities we face, as the people of a nation, as citizens of our communities, and as individuals, are inexorably linked to our access to information on which we make our decisions.

"Unfold Your Future." The word "unfold" paints a picture - opening the newspaper, turn-

INSIDER TRADING

Storms presented challenges, but we were well prepared

The storms of the past two weeks have challenged the people of Mississippi and our neighbors along the Gulf Coast. Tropical Storm Isidore and Hurricane Lili remind us of the power of natural forces and the respect we must have for them.

It is due to our respect for those forces that we take action quickly. As the recent storms grew in intensity and proximity to Mississippi, they were closely monitored.

The Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) worked closely with federal emergency officials and the National Hurricane Center to prepare for the impact of the storms.

In the end, our top priority is the safety and security of the people of Mississippi. To meet that priority, we declared a state of emergency well ahead of the arrival of the storms.

When a state of emergency is issued, a massive chain of events is put in motion. Local officials are given broader authority to enact emergency measures in their areas.

MEMA can deploy their emergency responders to the front lines of the storm in preparation of meeting local needs.

And, the declaration of a state of emergency also automatically puts into place consumer protection measures designed to protect citizens from those who would try to profit from disaster.

The effectiveness of state of emergency declarations would be greatly lessened if we waited until the storms hit Mississippi. Simply put, they would be too little, too late. To save lives, resources must be in place before they are actually needed.

In addition to the state of

Doctors and hospitals finally get a little relief

Since Sept. 5, the legislature has been grappling with the issue of medical malpractice reform, and on Monday, Oct. 7 we passed a bill giving more protection to hospitals and physicians from lawsuits.

Medical malpractice insurance has been skyrocketing lately for a number of reasons, not the least of which is the way medical malpractice tort claims have been being handled in Mississippi.

Physicians and other health-care providers across Mississippi have stated that their access to purchasing insurance had become severely limited.

This crisis prompted an investigation by the legislature to address the concerns that caused insurance coverage to be denied to physicians in Mississippi.

ing the layered pages, separating the nested sections.

It is a word of action that connotes the process of development, of growth, of evolution, the future.

With each section we unfold and each page we turn and each article we read, we receive information, a collection of facts, stimulation, insight and challenges that provoke thought and contribute to deeper understanding and broader knowledge.

These simple actions place power in the hands of the people.

And it is that middle word of the phrase "Unfold Your Future" that is the most significant.

"Unfold Your Future" is a profoundly personal dynamic.

The pages of our newspapers contain information that helps each of us make personal decisions about our households and our jobs, the products we purchase and opportunities for employment.

Those pages provide details that help us make personal decisions about our schools and our communities - changes in our school's curriculum and our city's ordinances.

Newspapers help enable citizens to be involved in the affairs of government, helping decide who is elected to office and what laws are passed. And through the process of representative government, newspapers help shape our national agenda and foreign policy.

One of the most remarkable aspects of "unfolding your future" is that the pages of our newspapers provide unparalleled opportunities to share our views with each other.

Editorial and opinion pages offer a community forum in which citizens can voice their concerns and views on any number of topics. It is an opportunity to "unfold our collective future".

This is democracy in action, a discourse that is both public and personal.

Knowledge is indeed power and we enjoy the privilege of access to that.

Knowledge, in the hands of the people, is a remarkable resource that helps us set our course personally and as a society.

Community newspapers continue to play a central role in that process.

By providing information that enables people to make sound decisions, newspapers are committed to ensure that you, and citizens all across the nation, have the knowledge and the power to "unfold your future".

Tim L. Waltner has been publisher of the Freeman (S.D.) Courier since 1984. He is past president of both the South Dakota Newspaper Association and the International Society of Weekly Newspaper Editors, and a four-time winner of the ISWNE Golden Dozen Award for editorial writing.

boat to a Hancock County Water and Sewer line valve last week. There should have been a tree or something else to tie a boat up to.

Hopefully with the help of Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the Mississippi Emergency Management

Agency (MEMA), our local officials will receive assistance for the additional cleanup necessary due to Lili. Our Hancock County Board of Supervisors and cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland have had heavy burdens placed on them by Isidore and Lili, and any and all help is greatly appreciated.

High school football continues this week with the Hancock High Hawks visiting Meridian.

The Hawks played the state's top team, Wayne County, last week and gave them a good go. Meridian will be another big test for the Hawks. Bay High will host a powerful Gautier this Friday. The young Tigers will really have their hands full with Gautier. St. Stanislaus will travel to Iberville, and the Rocks could give the Warriors a good scare. A good error-free game by Stanislaus could add another win for the season.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will be at home this week playing host to East Central. The Pirates could possibly pull a upset over East Central.

Remember to support your local high school football team Friday. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

the key elements in the bill. Caps on "non-economic" damages, also known as "pain and suffering," was capped at $500,000 until July 1, 2011; $750,000 from then until July 1, 2017; and at $1 million after July 1, 2017.

Lawsuits against physicians and others may be heard only in the county where the alleged malpractice occurs.

Doctors have been separated from mass tort drug cases.

It provides "Good Samaritan" immunity for providing health services at schools and to doctors who render medical services under a special volunteer medical license.

The bill makes a defendant in a malpractice lawsuit liable only for his percentage of fault for non-economic - "pain and suffering" - damages.

For economic damages, liability is limited to several only for a defendant whose fault is less than 30 percent and is joint and several up to 50 percent for a defendant whose fault is 30 percent or more.

The fault of defendants whose liability is limited by law cannot be transferred to another defendant.

The bill requires a plaintiff's attorney to file a certificate of consultation with an expert. There is an exception to this provision when an effort to secure an expert witness fails three times.

The statute of limitations on lawsuits against nursing homes is reduced to two years, which is the same as doctors. Also, the bill requires a 60-day advance notice of suit against any medical provider.

Under the bill, medical records held by nursing homes are confidential, but must be disclosed to residents or their representatives or medical providers upon request.

The bill goes into effect on Jan. 1, 2003, and applies to all court actions filed on or after that date.

Richard honored at state conference

Johnnie Richard, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), Department of Mississippi, was honored at a testimonial on Sept. 28 at the Biloxi Beach Resort, Biloxi.

Attendees from across the state recognized Richard for his service to veterans and the VFW. Governor Ronnie Musgrove issued a proclamation naming September 28, 2002 as "Johnnie L. Richard Day" throughout the state of Mississippi.

The cities of Biloxi, Gulfport, and D'Iberville also issued proclamations naming Sept. 28 as Johnnie L. Richard Day.

Richard was elected State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of Mississippi, at the 68th Annual Convention held in Tupelo on June 23, 2002. He serves under the theme "The Best

Commander Johnnie Richard
Never Rest."

Richard is a resident of Kiln and a life member of Alfred Alleman, Post 2539, Gulfport.

Former Governor Kirk Fordice appointed him to serve as a delegate to the White House Conference on Aging representing all veterans and their families within the state of Mississippi.

He has served on numerous VFW National Committees - POW/MIA, Hospital, Community Activities, Legislative, and Organization and Finance.

He was named "All-American District Commander" in 1999. He served as president of the Hancock County Equine and Livestock Facilities Board and was instrumental in obtaining financing and overseeing construction of the facility.

He is a member of the North Hancock Business Association and served as an advisor to Hancock County Vocational School.

He is also a member of American Legion, Post 139, Bay St. Louis, and a life member of the Military Order of the Cooties (the honor degree of the VFW).

Richard is married to Sue Richard, and they have two daughters, Desti Guthrie and Jennifer Richard.

Richard states that until the veterans of this country receive the same health care and benefits as the Congress of the United States, our work is not done.

Cajun musician visits CBM

Louisiana native Papillon, a noted Cajun musician and storyteller, recently served up a musical gumbo with friendly warmth and toe-tapping, authentic rhythms at Charles B. Murphy Elementary in Pearlington. Papillon was given his name, meaning "butterfly," by his grandfather when he was just a boy. During his visit with the students in grades K-5, he weaved together musical tunes and explanations of Cajun traditions and French words with warm reminiscences from childhood. Papillon created exuberant tunes on his guitar and sang Zydeco songs with the help of the students as they played such instruments as spoons, bells, cans, a washboard, bongo drums, a triangle, and other hand-held items. This musical lesson was made possible through the Hancock School District's School-to-Careers grant program that encourages career awareness, experience, and exploration.

emergency declarations for Tropical Storm Isidore and Hurricane Lili, executive orders were issued directing the call-up of the Mississippi National Guard.

There is no doubt that the deployment of our "citizen soldiers" during Isidore helped save lives. Guard personnel were out in force evacuating people from flooded areas accessible only by heavy military trucks. In one night, nearly 600 people were removed by the men and women of the Guard.

One photo of a National Guard soldier carrying a 10-month old little boy to safety told the entire story of the work these great soldiers carried out during Tropical Storm Isidore.

In addition to the resources marshaled by the state of emergency declarations and the deployment of Guard personnel, hundreds of emergency management professionals and local volunteers staffed emergency operations centers.

The good work of these people before, during and after natural disasters cannot be emphasized enough.

When it comes to storms like Isidore and Lili, we will not do anything that would put the lives of Mississippians at risk, and that same commitment applies to those evacuating from our neighboring states.

Our shelters and our roads are always open to them, but we cannot implement plans that take away substantial resources from our own communities and put our people at risk.

Our ability to take on the challenges presented to us by nature is enhanced by our level of preparedness for any situation, and we're ready for whatever comes our way.

Phillips, Herron Bay and Pearlinton," said Lynette Carbon, director for the Hancock County Civil Defense.

In the city of Pass Christian, the newly completed fishing pier extension located in the harbor across from city hall received the most damage from Isidore.

The storm ripped up the decking on both the $86,000 extension and the existing $60,000 pier built in 1990.

Janet Dudding, comptroller for city of Pass Christian, said restoring the pier was estimated to cost $65,000.

During its Oct. 1 meeting, the board of aldermen authorized the final payment of $39,441.41 to Anchor Sales and Service for its Tidelands contract of extending the fishing pier and the new pier during.

Steve Woods, an American Red Cross spokesperson, said 16 homes were destroyed, 92 had major damage and 1,244 had minor damage in Hancock County, according to findings from Red Cross damage assessment teams. People who need immediate assistance may call the American Red Cross at (866) 438-4636.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) have arrived in Hancock County to help residents, business owners and communities recover after the storms.

Michael Bolch, the federal coordinating officer with FEMA, said the agency has approved $538,079 eligible disaster housing assistance in Hancock County during the first week following the storms.

"FEMA projects approximately $2 million worth of assistance will be approved in Hancock County," Bolch said. "We encourage people to call even if they have insurance."

The toll-free registration line is (800) 621-FEMA (3362) and is open for Mississippians who were affected by Tropical Storm Isidore from seven counties, including Hancock.

Applicants must call and register for assistance before Nov. 30 in order to receive help. The line is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week. The number for the speech or hearing impaired is (800) 462-7585.

Karen Renz, a Shoreline Park resident, and her family were among those who received water damage.

Renz, who owns Karen Anne's School of Fine Art, said a foot and a half of water seeped into her studio/school during Isidore.

"We stayed here because we didn't expect that much water," she said. Renz's living quarters are located above the studio.

Renz said she was keeping an eye on the storm when water starting coming into the studio after 2:30 a.m.

Within 30 minutes, the water rose to a foot and a half, destroying furniture, a television, a copy machine, shelving units, books and some art supplies. Renz had picked up most of the art supplies before the storm hit the area.

Renz said she did not pursue assistance from the FEMA because she did not feel right about it.

"There were so many people who lost so much more," she said. "We were inconvenienced but still have a place to live."

Murder -- Pass suspects

County this week where they will face a grand jury on Dec. 10.

After Bourgeois confessed, Davis' skeletal remains were found Oct. 5 on land owned by Bourgeois' family in north Walthall County. Bourgeois was serving time at Leakesville Prison for an attempted armed robbery before being transported to the Walthall County Jail. Smith was arrested in Gulfport on Monday by Long Beach investigator Susan Taylor in connection with the Gulfport Police Department, said Long Beach Police Chief Harley Schinker. He was also transported to Walthall County.

Officials believe Davis was murdered after he gave a statement to local police about an armed robbery he and the two men had allegedly committed on April 8, 1998, on the Coast. Investigators had been searching for clues since Davis' disappearance on April 12, 1998.

Officials said Smith allegedly shot Davis once in the abdomen and again in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun and then passed the gun to Bourgeois, who also shot Davis.

scene until Monday.

"There was no HAZMAT cargo and there were no injuries reported ...," she said. "We're a very safe railroad and our focus is on safety, so we're very glad no one was injured."

Officials at the scene Sunday said that some of the cars involved in the derailment normally contained hazardous materials, but at the time of the accident, only had residual amounts - the train was bound for New Orleans, where the cars would be due to be re-filled.

Bill Johnson, a Hancock County Sheriff's Department reserve deputy and full-time employee with Compton Engineering who lives at Bay Oaks and Central, said he saw the train before it derailed.

"I could hear a terrible rumbling-roaring noise," Johnson said. "As I looked up, I saw big pieces of slag and splinters of wood flying up. My first thought was that it was dragging something."

Compton called the sheriff's dispatcher, hoping to get word to the engineer before the train derailed, then got in his car to try to flag him down. By that time, the train had already left the tracks, he said, and "the cars were still rocking."

Johnson stayed on the scene to help direct traffic around the accident and keep people from getting entangled in the downed power lines.

CSX employees had repaired the tracks enough to resume rail traffic by Monday afternoon, but a portion of Central Ave. was still blocked as of Wednesday afternoon.

Bay St. Louis at the soccer field, and he stated a black male exited the suspect's vehicle and shot a weapon at him several times. Lymuel gave a description of the vehicle and suspect to police, and it was verified by numerous witnesses.

Varnell said because of the severity of the charge,

Vaughn has been charged as an adult.

The suspect's vehicle was located in Bay St. Louis a short time later by Bay-Waveland Narcotics Investigator Brett Ladner, after it had been released over police communications.

"Vaughn was located and arrested by Waveland Police Sgt. Brent Anderson and Officer Elfren Acosta with assistance from Bay St. Louis police officers after a brief foot pursuit," Varnell said. Vaughn was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility with an initial appearance in Waveland Municipal Court scheduled today.

Hancock County Justice Court Judge Tommy Carver has issued warrants for two suspects in the case, whose names are so far being withheld, Malley said.

'Sea-crets' revealed, featuring three artists

"Sea-cret Places" will be showing at Serenity Gallery on Second Saturday in Bay St. Louis Oct. 12. A diverse show of mixed media will be presented by Serenity Gallery featuring three Daphne artists.

"Sea-cret Places," an imaginative show with a hint of mysticism and whimsy, will include oil paintings, photography mixed with computer graphics, wood sculptor, artfully framed mirrors and ceramics.

The artists, Hal, Jill and Stephanie Smith, are members of the Eastern Shore Art Association. Hal Smith began 35 years ago as a technical illustrator and freelance photographer.

His current works are varied to tell a story or provoke a sense of strong emotion, all taking place in worlds just beyond reach.

Jill Smith began as a watercolor painter in 1974 and started oil painting in 1985. She has established a reputation for painting with considerable detail and realism. Her work places the viewer in a place of calm and peace. Her works are in private collections throughout the United States and Europe.

Stephanie Smith began painting ceramics in 1994 as a form of therapy while recovering from severe long-term illness. She has become a nationally known award-winning figurine painter.

Her pieces are painted with remarkable depth and distinguished detail. The Smiths have lived all over the U.S. and Germany. They enjoy the friendly atmosphere of the Eastern Shore and have settled in Lake Forest.

"Sea-cret Places" will open on Second Saturday, Oct. 12, with a meet-the-artists reception from 5 to 8 p.m. This show will continue throughout the month.

Jill C. Smith attended her first college art class in Washington State under the instruction of watercolorist Howard Hardy in 1972.

Since then she has traveled extensively throughout the U.S. and Europe. She began her art career in 1976, as a freelance commercial artist for a national oil company.

In 1984, she received an Official Commendation from the Department of the Army for painting professional architectural renderings of several buildings in Munich, Germany.

She has four children and three grandchildren and is happily married to her best friend. Smith's paintings are in private collections throughout the United States and Germany.

Hal Smith began his career as a technical illustrator with Collins Radio in Dallas Texas. He was the senior illustrator from 1966 through 1969 in a department that prepared illustrations for advertising brochures and installation and repair manuals for electronic equipment.

He was graduated from the University of Texas, Arlington, in civil engineering. He is a licensed professional engineer registered in the state of Texas.

Using his photography and digital capabilities, Smith is integrating his photography and illustration skills into surrealistic, thought provoking images.

Stephanie Smith began painting ceramics in 1994 as a form of therapy due to an unexpected illness which struck following her high school graduation.

She won a series of first place ribbons at the Mid-Florida Ceramic Guild in Orlando. In 1999 she won top honors during the regional show and was awarded the "Freddy" trophy, the highest award given in the ceramic hobbyist division.

In 2001 she received another series of first place awards including Best of Show and was presented with the "Peggy" trophy, the highest award given in the professional division.

Neil Sedaka brings a lifetime of music to Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Nov. 1

Neil Sedaka will sing the songs that made him famous at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday, Nov. 1 at 9 p.m. Tickets are now available, are $19.95, $24.95 and $29.95 and are available at Casino Magic Box Office by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location.

Those who have followed the career of Neil Sedaka are overwhelmed by a great sense of awe. This 62-year-old youthful, international superstar is a complete musician, because there has always been a duality between his classical roots and that of the rock n, roll singer-songwriter.

In 1958, Sedaka and writing partner Howard Greenfield became contracted to publishers Al Nevins and Don Kirshner as songwriters at 1650 Broadway.

This music factory was

the Brill Building and nicknamed Tin Pan Alley, and bristled with such talents as Neil Diamond, Carol King and Paul Simon. By 1963 after selling some 25 million records, including hits "Oh Carol" penned in honor of former girlfriend Carol King and his greatest copyrighted song, "Breaking Up Is Hard To Do," Sedaka was riding the wave of international success.

When his popularity began to wane in the late 60's, Sedaka and Greenfield, authors of 500 hits together, worked as songwriters for Screen Gems Columbia where they wrote hits like "Magic Colors" for Lesley Gore, "When Love Comes Knocking at Your Door" for the Monkees, and "Puppet Man" which was a hit for Tom Jones and The Fifth Dimension.

Also, one of the most played songs in the late 70's, "Love Will Keep us Together" launched The Captain & Tennille as a 3 million seller. The singer-songwriter had returned to prominence. Although Sedaka was resolute in looking forward, he re-recorded "Breaking Up is Hard to Do" as a ballad. This was musically unique and made U.S. chart history when in 1975 the song reached the top ten.

It was the only song of two versions to be a hit twice for the same artist. He continued to write and record music throughout the next two decades with more control over his own musical destiny.

Sedaka's modesty was evident when he stated that his multi-talents were God-given. Over the years, Sedaka songs have been heard worldwide, and during moments of intense inspiration, he would scribble lyrics on his arm and napkins. Now in 2002, Neil Sedaka is still recording and constantly touring, much to the delight of his fans worldwide.

Must be 21 to attend.

"What should I do if my small child is afraid of day care?"

If your child seems afraid to go to day care, parents can help by introducing the new environment gradually: at first, mom or dad can go along, staying nearby while the child plays. The parent can stay for gradually shorter periods each day until the child enters day care without fear or sadness. Though parents may worry about how the child will do, they should show pleasure in helping their child succeed. If the child shows unusual or persistent terror about leaving home, or being away from either parent, this should be discussed with a behavioral health specialist. We'd like to help you. ## Golden Moon rises over Pearl River Resort

CHOCTAW, Miss. — The Mississippi Band of Choctaw Indians (MBCI) reached yet another milestone amid its ongoing quest for expansion of the Pearl River Resort with the recent official grand opening of the Golden Moon Hotel & Casino.

The facility had been accessible to the public since the August 26 "soft opening," but the atmosphere was electric and excitement was in no short supply as events were held throughout the day to commemorate the historic achievement.

"Today marks another historic moment for Pearl River Resort, the Mississippi Choctaws and, for that matter, all Mississippians," said MBCI Chief Phillip Martin.

"This luxurious facility will go a long way towards helping us achieve our goal of becoming a top U.S. resort destination — a distinction of which all state residents can be proud."

Presently, Pearl River Resort represents more than a $500-million investment by the Choctaws in the state of Mississippi.

Additionally, the Golden Moon has hired 2,000 new employees — bringing the current employment base for Pearl River Resort close to 5,200.

Ground was officially broken for the $177-million facility in November 2000. The Golden Moon Hotel & Casino is located directly across Highway 16 from Silver Star Hotel & Casino and features an 843,000-square-foot luxury hotel consisting of 571 rooms, including 112 suites and 32 VIP luxury suites, located within the hotel's 28 floors.

The casino offers 90,000 square feet of gaming floor space with 1,750 slot machines and 54 table games. The Golden Moon features five appealing restaurants ranging from California-style 24-hour dining to steaks and fine wines, seafood, and sushi.

Five lounges exist for entertainment pleasure, including a show lounge offering live music, a sports bar and grille, and a coffee bar lounge.

Building upon the success of its existing Silver Star Hotel & Casino and Dancing Rabbit Golf Club, Pearl River Resort has become a full-service resort destination, with the opening of several new attractions this summer:

— Geyser Falls Water Theme Park, a beautiful, 15-acre themed waterpark featuring 12 major water slides, a gigantic wavepool, and an exotic continuous river — designed by Michael Lee, one of the creators of Disney's Typhoon Lagoon and Epcot Center; — Star*atacular, a one-of-a-kind laser, light and water show set to music and featuring lasers, fountains, pyrotechnics, and water screen projections;

— Hollywood Star Cars, a collection of 25 famous cars of film and television in impressive Hollywood settings.

Artigues to receive PRCC honors

Ronald (Ronnie) Artigues, a 1962 graduate of Pearl River Community College, will receive the PRCC Distinguished Service Award during homecoming activities Saturday on the campus.

Artigues, 60, a successful general contractor in Hancock County, is a member of the board of directors for the Hancock County Alumni Association and a former PRCC Development Foundation board member.

"I was surprised when I found out about the award," said Artigues. "Anytime you are mentioned in the same company as some of the previous winners like Berlon Lee, Dub Herring and people like that, it gives you a good warm feeling."

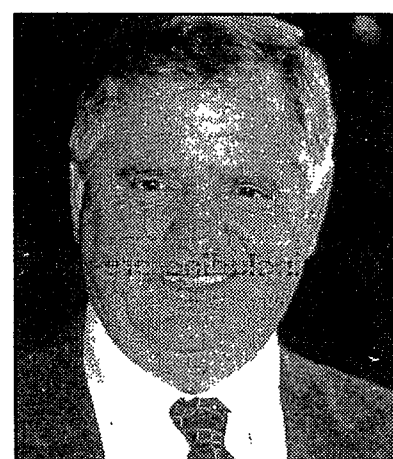

Artigues' son, Jay, played baseball at PRCC and, today, serves as the school's head baseball coach.

"When Jay got involved at Pearl River, whether as a player or the baseball coach, I have tried to help him in some sort of way," said Artigues. "When he got the baseball job, he asked me for some help and I provided some people to help the program."

Artigues has been instrumental in renovation work to the baseball complex. That work has included building a new field house, and repairing and expanding the press box and grandstand area. In the next couple of weeks, work will begin on new dugouts.

"I am here mostly because wherever my kids go, I try to help them in their endeavors," said Artigues.

"Ronnie Artigues is definitely a great choice as the 2002 Distinguished Service Award recipient," said Donna Wilson Lee, executive director of the Development Foundation. "He has been a loyal alumnus over the years not only to athletics but to the college as a whole. We are pleased to be honoring Ronnie at Homecoming."

RONNIE ARTIGUES

Born in Bay St. Louis, Artigues was graduated from St. Stanislaus High School. He wasn't sure if college was in his future or not. When many of his high school buddies chose Pearl River, he came along, too.

"I really liked it here," he said. "I studied business. I made friends mostly with all the football players."

Artigues, a four-sport letterman in high school, didn't play football as a freshman. He walked on as a sophomore and earned a scholarship as a starting safety on a 1961 Wildcat team that finished 10-0, winning both the state and national championships.

The coach of that team was the late T.D. "Dobie" Holden. Artigues went on to graduate from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1966 with a degree in business administration.

BeauSoleil

Diamondhead Performing Arts presents BeauSoleil this Sunday

The Cajun group BeauSoleil will perform Sunday at the Diamondhead Country Club.

These Cajuns are revolutionaries, and music is their weapon. Just look at the namesake for the world's best known and loved Cajun band.

In 1755, Joseph Broussard dit BeauSoleil helped lead the Acadian resistance to a forced exile from their home in what is now Nova Scotia. Hence the band's name "BeauSoleil" whose dynamic leader is Michael Doucet.

Doucet dates the band name back to a childhood family reunion that took place in the house built by Joseph Broussard's son.

Fittingly, Doucet has under that name been leading his own musical insurgency these past 25 years.

Cajun artists had tasted fame before, but BeauSoleil was the first professional Cajun band to do it on their own terms. They based themselves in Louisiana, giving their friends and neighbors the chance to share in their worldwide success.

Nowhere is that cultural pride better expressed than in the music of BeauSoleil.

For a quarter century and counting, this astounding band has been delivering new fans to their music, playing in concert halls, festivals, and dances around the world; on film and TV soundtracks.

"The culture is always shedding its skin," Doucet explains. "I look at it like a serpent, the culture is continuing to evolve. For me, I try to encompass it all, what came way before I was born, and what is current."

What really binds you is that you all know the music is much greater than you are, and we're part of that now," says Doucet. "That's what propels us, keeps us doing what we're doing, and holds us together."

The performance takes place Sunday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Diamondhead Country Club.

Tickets are available at the door or Diamondhead Drugs.

For information, call Pat or Bill at 255-6049.

Toast to the Coast - A Far East Fantasy

Toast to the Coast, the fundraising gala held annually to raise money for Coast Episcopal School, takes place this Sunday in Pass Christian.

This year's theme, "A Far East Fantasy," will include Japanese Taiko drummers, Asian stilt walkers, fire twirlers, delicious cuisine, live and silent auction, a chance to win a Porsche Boxster convertible, artwork created by local artists, and dancing under the stars to Hot Wire.

On display will be the children's artwork from the 16th annual "Children in the Arts" Contest and Workshop. This art contest is open to fourth through eighth graders in all public and private schools along the Gulf Coast.

It is geared to stimulate young artists and bring public awareness to the importance of involving children in the arts. The artwork will also be displayed prior to Toast to the Coast at the new library on the USM Long Beach campus for two weeks beginning Oct. 4.

The event will take place

Friday, Oct. 18, 7 p.m. - 1 a.m. in the home of Gerald and Martha Maples, 715 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian.

Corporate sponsors include Grand Casino, Gulf Coast Medical Center, Gulf Title Company, Inc., Jeanne Necaise, CPA, Casino Magic, Continental Airlines, Air Tran, Parkers, Inc., and The President Casino.

Who knows where weevils lurk?

THE PACE FILES
BY STAN PACE
Extension Agent

Occasionally I encounter a weakened lawn or athletic field that appears to have symptoms of drought stress, or disease attack even though adequate water and preventative fungicides have been applied.

Upon closer examination billbugs, small turf feeding weevils, are found. Adult billbugs are hard bodied, usually grayish or black, 1/4 to 7/16 inches long, and have long beak-like snouts with chewing mouthparts at the tip.

Billbug larvae are small, 3/8 inch or less, cream-colored legless grubs with yellowish-brown heads.

The adults will deposit tiny eggs into the stems and crowns of the turf plants where the young larvae then feed until they become too large then move into the thatch where they continue to feed on rhizomes and roots.

While Zoysia and hybrid Bermudagrass lawns are most often preferred, they will also feed on Bahiagrass, centipede, and St. Augustine lawns.

The adults and larvae have been feeding most of the summer, but the symptoms got more pronounced near the end of summer as turf growth slows, along with hot, dry conditions.

As cooler weather approaches in the fall, the adults will begin to seek sheltered sites in which to overwinter.

While the best management for control is to apply a preventative insecticide such as imidacloprid (restricted use) in the spring prior to egg hatch, conventional soil insecticides can be applied in the spring or fall to kill adults and larvae feeding on crowns, stolons, and roots.

Recent rains and cooler temperatures have perked up many landscape plants. These conditions have also perked up some disease organisms.

Scout your plants for signs of disease and apply appropriate anti-fungal and anti-bacterial measures. Be sure to check the underside of leaves for aphids.

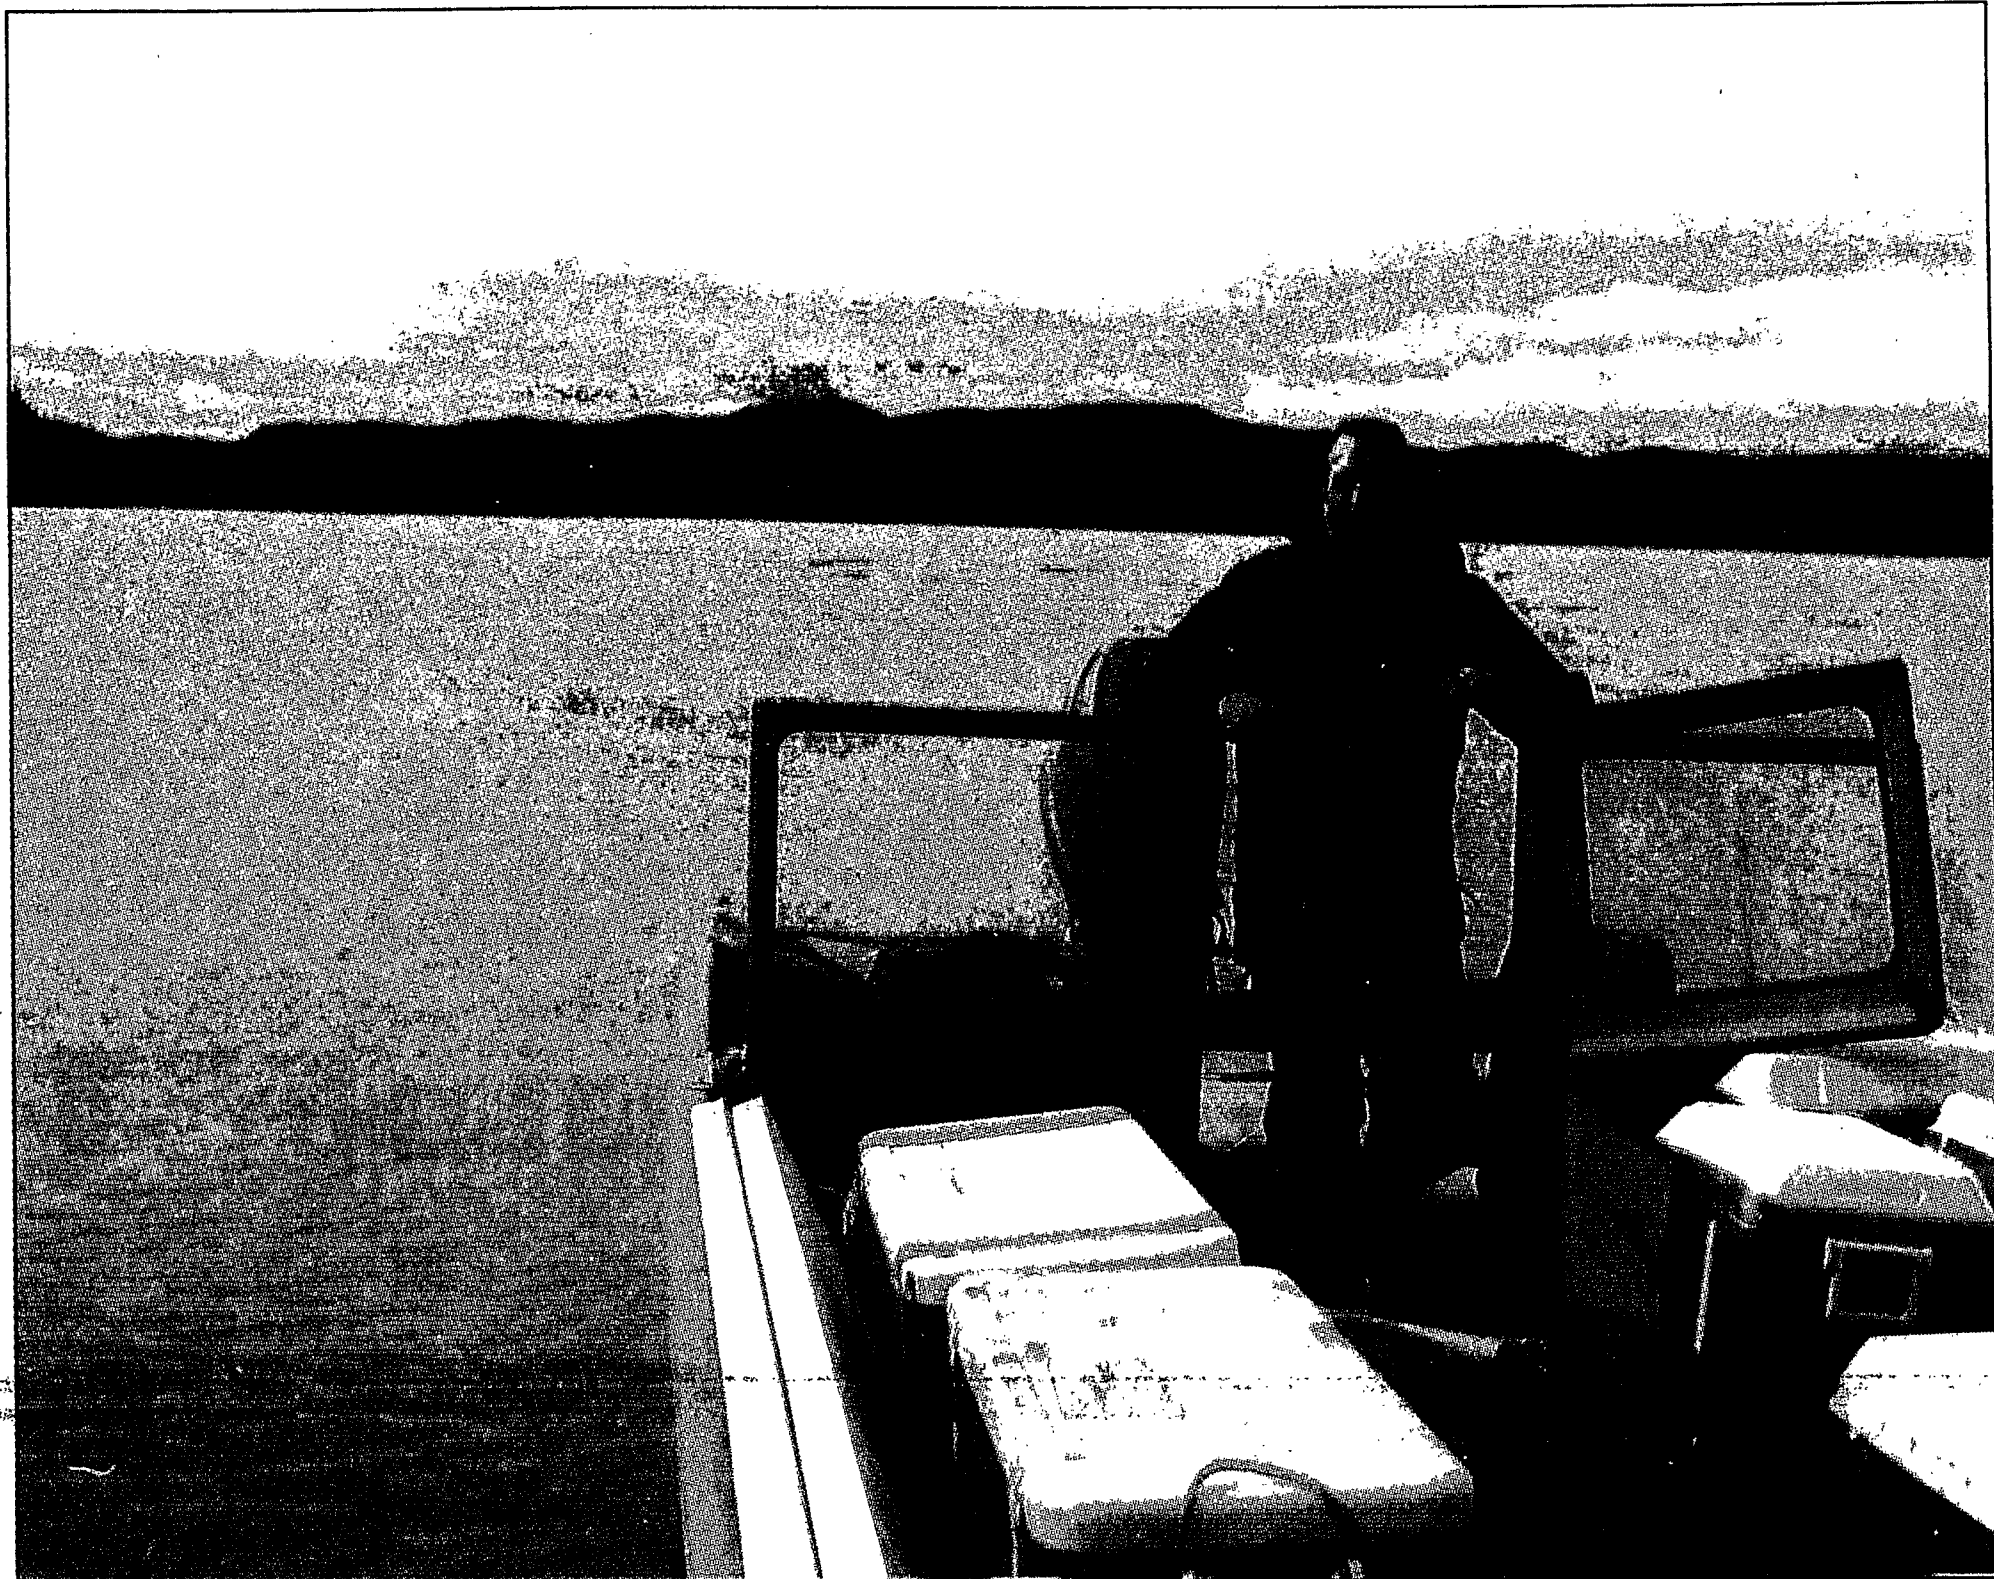

Greens in the vegetable garden and roses are two of the preferred feeding areas for these sap suckers. Be sure to apply whichever control method you use to the underside of the leaf.

Aphids can sometimes be controlled with a strong spray of just water with insecticidal soap.

Ladybird beetles (ladybugs to most of us) are voracious aphid eaters. The insecticides need to contact the aphids to work, so be sure to increase the pres-

Some people might expect to find a professor specializing in marine chemistry clad in a white lab jacket, working among test tubes in a sterile laboratory.

In September, however, Dr. Alan Shiller of the University of Southern Mississippi's Department of Marine Science was far from his lab, taking water samples and fighting fires in the Yukon wilderness of Alaska.

Beginning Labor Day, Shiller participated in research with the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) in Alaska, sampling the pristine waters of the Yukon River and its tributaries and performing some of the first work of this kind in that remote environment.

"The Yukon River is a fairly pristine river," Shiller said. "It's an interesting region in that we will see the first effects of global warming in that environment."

Global warming already has had an effect in the Alaskan wilderness, he said, in that the area has

1982 - Arson suspected in fire that destroyed St. Henry Church

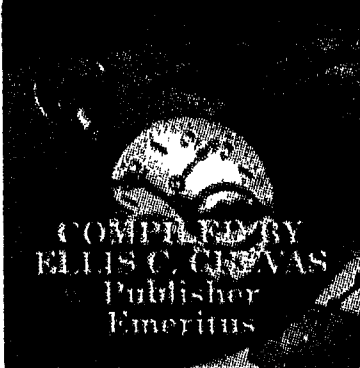

TEN YEARS AGO

September 13, 1992 - The Hancock County Board of Supervisors was told Tuesday that Bayou Caddy Casino Corporation's initial investment of $2.5 million is now in excess of $10 million.

Bayou Caddy president George Baxter said the corporation hopes to welcome its first customers aboard the "Queen of the Bayou" in 90 days.

Residents and visitors are invited to meet the city's growing artists' community today when Bay St.

Louis becomes "A Place of Art." From 1 to 6 p.m. a major exhibition and sale of works by local artists will be featured in downtown businesses, galleries and public places located on Main Street and along Beach Boulevard.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

September 12, 1982 - Landmark lost forever. Shadows cast by the late afternoon sunlight accent on the former St. Henry Catholic Church at the Longfellow and Chapman Road intersection near the Waveland line in a recent photograph. The church burned to the ground early Thursday morning.

Robert Henley, church

caretaker for the last several years and a retired master wood craftsman of Shoreline Park, reports the original portion of the church was built in 1910 near Edwards Bayou and moved to its present location in 1927.

A rear section of the church was the former Bayou LaCroix Church which was moved in the early 1960's when the National Space Technology Laboratories acoustic Buffer Zone was established in that area, Henley explained.

He said in recent years the church has been a target of vandals and thieves. Henley sadly adds, new ceiling fans were recently installed in the church.

Ed Friloux of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad Friday said arson is cited as cause of the five-alarm blaze based on ongoing intense investigation by the squad and Deputy State Fire Marshal Norman Cowart of Wiggins.

Necaise & Klein earn honors; Rebels stun Florida 17-14

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

It is hard to believe that we are in the seventh week of high school football! It is moving by so fast. There were some top teams playing against our local competition along with a then-#6 ranked Florida Gator team in Mississippi over the weekend.

After winning the county championship the week before, the Rocks were left behind by a Gautier team that had tons of speed in a 58-12 loss. The Bay High Tigers were ambushed on the road against Forrest County AHS 55-7 while the Pass High Pirates dropped a heart-breaker to Vancleave 22-18.

Finally, the Hancock Hawks had the dubious task of entertaining the #1-ranked team in the state in Wayne County. The Hawks were defeated 31-15.

The Rocks traveled to Gautier last Friday fresh off a big win over Bay High only to have a long ride home after a 58-12 defeat at the feet of the Gators, literally. Gautier's speed proved to be too much for the Rocks as the Gators scored on each of their seven possessions in the first half.

The Rocks outscored the Gators in the second half 12-7; however, the damage had been done. Matt Hoda scored from one yard out in the early stages of the fourth quarter followed by Ashton Wright's 14-yard run with no time left in the game.

This week, the task does not get any easier for the Rocks having to go to D'Iberville to take on the division leading Warriors. SSC quarterback Tim Kulikowski was injured and did not play against Gautier but is probable for the game against D'Iberville.

The Bay High Tigers remained winless on the season with a 55-7 loss to the Forrest County AHS on the road.

The Tigers scored late in the game when Zack Ferry connected with Robbie Pitre on an 8-yard screen pass.

This was the last non-division foe for the Tigers as they begin a four-game division streak. On Friday night, the Tigers will host Gautier at Joe D. McCullough Stadium.

The Pass High Pirates were narrowly defeated 22-18 by the Vancleave Bulldogs in a division contest. Vancleave jumped out to a 8-0 lead following a safety and a four-yard run. Maurice Hardnett got the Pirates on the board with a one-yard run.

Vancleave went up 16-6 in the third quarter when Derek Wells scored his second touchdown of the night. Pass High answered right back with a touchdown from Anthony Henderson. However, the nail in the coffin for the Pirates was a 70-yard kickoff return by Wells on the ensuing kickoff.

Hardnett added a 65-yard scoring run later in the fourth quarter for Pass high to no avail.

The Pirates will host the East Central Hornets on Friday night.

The Hancock Hawks fell victim to the Wayne County War Eagles 31-15 but defeat did not come until late. Hancock had the ball inside the War Eagle 15 yardline three times in the fourth quarter and came away without points thanks in part to some solid red-zone defense. The Hawks led at halftime 7-6.

Akeem Loftin, a Prep All-American, tallied 157 yards rushing and three scores against the Hawks on Friday. Hawks quarterback Brandon Necaise put up solid numbers himself as he passed for 205 yards and added a 30-yard rushing touchdown to his scorecard on Friday evening.

David Brown caught our passes from Necaise for 110 yards and added 48 yards rushing in the game.

The Hawks scored on a Necaise keeper in the first half and then threw a 74-yard bomb to David Brown in the second half for the Hawks other score.

The Hawks will take to the road on Friday to lock horns with Meridian.

And, no sportswriter in the state would end a football article without mentioning the dramatic Ole Miss upset win over then #6-ranked Florida that happened last Saturday in Oxford. The 17-14 stunner is being called the biggest home win for Ole Miss in the last 50 years.

The Rebel defense stepped up to the plate time and again and delivered a homerun on each occasion. Rex Grossman finished the game with more bumps and bruises than his offensive line as the Rebels harassed the Heisman Trophy contender all afternoon.

One player that Grossman is glad he won't face for some time is Rebel defensive back Matt Grier. He picked off two of Grossman's passes taking one back 24 yards for a score. Grier, a Smithville native, was named the SEC and National defensive player of the week for his efforts.

Rebel quarterback Eli

Manning accomplished something that his legendary father Archie Manning and collegiate icon brother Peyton Manning never did - beat Florida!

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week #6 is Hancock's Brandon Necaise. The Hawk signal caller threw for 205 yards and a touchdown and added a 30-yard rushing touchdown in a 31-15 loss to the #1-ranked Wayne County War Eagles.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week #6 is SSC's Lee Klein. The sophomore linebacker tallied 10 total tackles including two quarterback sacks, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery in a 58-12 loss to Gautier.

All kickoffs are set for 7:30pm. See you at the game!

OLA Crescents win 3rd district volleyball title, tapped to host McComb in playoffs

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Our Lady Academy Crescents won their third consecutive Division 8 championship in volleyball with a 15-4, 9-15, 15-3 game against the 5A Gulfport Admirals.

The Crescents went through the district season undefeated at 14-0 and sport a 25-4 overall record heading into their final regular season game on the road against Chalmette, Louisiana on Wednesday, October 9.

OLA's three-year record during their consecutive district title run is 40-0.

OLA head coach Steve Reboul stated, "Our last regular season game before the playoffs is Chalmette. We are concentrating on that one and looking forward to getting in the state playoffs and continuing our season."

In the game against Gulfport, OLA won the first set pretty easily but fell behind 13-4 in the second set before staging a comeback. OLA made the score 13-9 before Gulfport put the game away.

In the third set, OLA struggled out of the gate but pulled together after Grace Allen's ace to make the score 4-2. Allen had two kills on OLA's last two serves to seal the deal.

In the match, Katherine Milner tallied 11 kills and Allen had 9. Rachel Cranford led the team with 25 assists while Julie Reboul recorded 16 points. Jennifer Fortenberry added 8 points in the win.

The Crescents will host

McComb in the first round of the state playoffs on Saturday, October 12 in the Father Peter Mockler Gymnasium at 1pm.

Last year, OLA defeated McComb in the second round en route to their state title game appearance against Tupelo. There are not classifications in volleyball and 2A OLA was defeated by 5A Tupelo in the state title match.

The OLA seniors on the team were honored Thursday in a pre-game ceremony. Those honored were Clare Adam, Grace Allen, Jennifer Fortenberry, Katherine Milner and Julie Reboul.

Pearl River's homecoming set for Saturday against SW

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Pearl River Community College hopes to get back on the winning track this Saturday when Southwest's Bears visit Dobie Holden Stadium for the scrappy Wildcats' 2002 Homecoming game.

Both teams enter the battle off losses. PRCC suffered a heartbreaking 23-20 setback to Itawamba last Saturday in Poplarville, snapping a three-game winning streak while Southwest was undefeated and nationally-ranked Jones' Homecoming victim 26-13 in Ellisville.

The Wildcats dropped to 3-2 overall with the ICC loss, but still remains undefeated at 2-0 in South Division play.

Southwest is winless in league play at 0-2 and is 2-3 overall, having recorded a 39-0 season-opening victory over Coahoma and a 20-2 win over Northeast the fourth week of the season.

The Bears fell to Holmes 7-3 and Hinds 17-14 the second and third weeks of the season, respectively.

After opening the season with a 13-6 loss to Northeast in Booneville, PRCC went on a three-game tear with victories over Northwest 20-18, East Central 13-9, and Hinds 31-22 before last weekend's stumble.

A year ago, Pearl River pounded Southwest 29-7 in Summit and spoiled the Bears' Homecoming celebration in an aerial free-for-all.

The Wildcats finished the night with 425 yards of total offense (374 pass, 51 rush), while All-American quarterback Charlie Reeve completed 37 of 51 passes for 325 yards and a touchdown.

Current Wildcat starter Daniel Forrest of Katy, Tex., Reeve's back up a year ago, led the offense in the final period and completed five of eight throws for 49 yards. In addition, wide receiver Durrell Weekley of Water Valley, who now plays for Alabama A&M, tied a team record for catches in a game with 11 for 97 yards, while the team's passing performance was the fifth-best in Wildcat history.

But Forrest won't get his starting shot at the Bears, as the sophomore is the latest in a long line of injured Wildcats.

No sooner did two injured starters wide receiver Ike Chekwa of New Orleans (shoulder) and nose tackle Josh Robertson of Picayune (knee) recuperate from injuries and should return to the line up Saturday, did Forrest injure his left knee late in the ICC game.

A welcomed addition to the Wildcats' defensive lineup will be freshman line-backer Barry Robertson of North Forrest, a projected starter in the preseason who has been sidelined with a broken collarbone.

Yukon -- from Stennis to wilderness

lost some of its permafrost, or soil that remains frozen throughout the year.

The USGS is taking detailed water quality samples in an effort to not only gauge the health of the river system now, but to predict the likely impact of continued global warming on that system. Shiller, who is director of the USM Center for Trace Analysis at Stennis Space Center, studies trace elements in natural waters. The opportunity to assist with the important work conducted by the USGS more than compensated for the rugged conditions of the three-week trip to the Yukon.

"Before setting out, we were shown the mandatory Bear Safety, videos," Shiller said with a laugh. Gratefully, none of the scientists were forced by local wildlife to use the two shotguns or two pistols tucked into their supply boat.

Packed into three open boats, two 14-foot aluminum boats and one 24-foot cargo boat, scientists and their gear put into the water at Eagle, Alaska, and sampled water along the river system to the only bridge over the Yukon River just west of Stevens Village, Alaska. Traversing roughly 450 miles of river, Shiller and his associates were fortunate to always find a cabin, lodge or some other form of accommodation along the route.

Most of the trip was devoted to science. Yet in the little village of Beaver, population 100, the scientists became makeshift firefighters. Near the end of one day of water sampling, the USGS team was being brought supplies by local villagers who had volunteered to drive the material on their all-terrain vehicles from the local airstrip. One of these individuals casually mentioned that a fire had broken out in the local church, a log cabin that served as the town's church and as a repository of village records.

"Soon, someone else came roaring up on their ATV saying, 'You guys have any buckets?'" Shiller said. So, three members of the team grabbed buckets and jumped onto the back of that ATV. Soon others were onboard other ATVs for what would be a most memorable and wild ride traveling at high speeds over bumpy gravel roads through the town towards the church.

Shiller helped to wrestle a fire hose onto one ATV and rode toward town on yet another. Once the fire hose had been rigged (using a piece of one of the scientist's flannel shirt as a gasket), it began to transport water from the nearby river to the little log cabin that was fully aflame.

Despite the fire hose and a bucket brigade, the fire consumed most of the church. Although the frame of the old church still stood, the entire interior of the building was lost. The scientists were thanked for their efforts and were written about in the Fairbanks newspaper's report on the fire. "We were offered a ride back to our cabin on those ATVs, but needless to say, we declined," Shiller said with a smile.

Next year, the USGS team will return to Alaska for another leg of their water-sampling tour of the Yukon River.

"I hope there will be room for me or someone from my lab for that trip," Shiller said. "The trip was not only an adventure and scientifically interesting, but also occurred at the peak of fall color with lovely hillsides of yellow-leaved trees accented by red understory."

A division of the College of Marine Sciences, the Department of Marine Science is strategically located at Stennis Space Center in Hancock County, home to the world's largest population of oceanographers and hydrographers. The department offers both master's and doctoral degrees in marine science and a master's degree in hydrographic science.

October is Fire Prevention Month

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Bay Saint Louis firefighters have moved from hurricane protection mode to fire safety education mode as swiftly as Isidore and Lili moved through the community.

While education activities were delayed because of the tropical storms, the October calendar is full for the fire safety trailer to be delivered to area schools and day care centers throughout the Bay and Hancock County for hands on prevention education with trained firefighters.

"Every year we have a new crop of students who need to learn to stop, drop and roll, who need to understand the seriousness of fire and how to avoid situations that can cause them bodily harm and damage property," said Chief Robert Gavnagie.

"When the Allstate Foundation helped us acquire the educational trailer we promised to make it available throughout the county, not just Bay St. Louis, and every year we accomplish this outreach through partnerships with schools, volunteer departments, the library system and other countywide groups that request our help," he said.

Firefighters are in the "worst day of your life" business. It is the goal of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department to be the "home of the silent siren" and they accomplish this task through continuing public education, particularly during October.

Just about every time they are called local firefighters land at the scene of something that makes our hair stand on end - fires, crashes, medical emergencies, haz-mat incidents, the kinds of situations most people want to steer clear of.

It is the mission of the Bay department to contain the chaos, whether the worst of the worst unfolds, or just the bad. It is our firefighters' jobs to help people prevent or survive a situation that could become one of the worst days of their lives.

"Whether it was the time when the jaws-of-life were used to save your aunt in the car crash, or the prompt response when your kitchen caught fire, or the fire safety lessons your kids got at school, here in Bay St. Louis it is always the ethical, honest never-too-tired firefighter who shows up, no questions asked, to save the day. The city administration is proud of our department and all that they accomplish through prevention education," said Mayor Eddie Favre.
